

Simon Says, Tourniquet

Can you hear it over your voice ringing out like a bell?
Uninspired yet motivated losing track of the days
Peel the sickness away from your eyes make it worth your while

Well it's gone and it's over now
You never thought that it would come
Tourniquet sort of ties you down
I never wanted truth through your eyes

Passing gently its' silence scares me
Why am I so afraid?
You can't show me because you're all guilty
We live in fear of regret

Well it's gone and it's over now
You never thought it would come down
Tourniquet sort of ties you down
I never wanted truth through your eyes

Does it ever make you wonder?
Do you ever hear the rain?
Did you get everything you wanted?
Did it make you feel like you thought it would?

Now you're flying you're up there by yourself
Take a look around now and notice that you've left us now

Well it's gone and it's over now
You never thought it would come
Tourniquet sort of ties you down
I never wanted truth through your eyes
Your eyes
Your eyes
