

Simon Townshend, Palace In The Air

You can see thru the haze
On dull or sunny days
You can see anything
It's all up ahead, in your head
You could live, in a palace in the air
You can yield, a purpose for a pair
How can anyone not capture
It takes so long
I'm not so sure
I'd like to live up there
I've been thinking of building
A palace in the air
I'm seeing, realising
The reason we're all here
It takes
Take escape from the maze
Living young and funny days
You can have everything
It's all up ahead,
You can live, in a palace in the air
You conceive, there's a purpose for a pair
How could anyone not
Oh, here she comes, I've seen her hair
Oh, here he is, purple and red
Mm, mercy me, well you can cause when you've seen it once
You'll want to see it again
In this palace, in this palace, in this palace