

Simplified, Numb

I want some more of that cause that is where its at
it feels so good to me
but I'm feeling numb

and it's no excuse to me but sure its plain to see that lately I've been in a slump Cause it seems to me the finer things should be considered who you are on the inside cause all the money, cars and blow won't change a thing cause when its time to go you know you cant hide

and i cant feel the rain falling down stream is like a lake
thats running out

and maybe things have been a little strange i look around with no one to blame but myself cause i can't change the way they look at me way they think of me wanna tell them all to go to hell and it amazes me its who you know and where you go and what you got to get me to get there so I'll take a hit and I'll take a sip This shirt it fits and I don't care it will get me there

and i can't feel it falling down on me here it comes comes a rush washing away the pain Cause i wanna feel...
