

Since By Man, What's Your Damage

no stopping this heaving breathing no turning down the volume no killing this momentum don't call us kid we'll call you video tape your own trappings stop motion picture perfect save your spit for those who care your battle cry is bought and sold turning up the stereo the stereo (x4) speakers speakin to me (x3) tapping together the remains converse and intercourse all the same sound continuity pleads true you've bought and sold your smile so many times so doctor docter scream danger and we all sleep better underground danger the warning read security is not for we eye to eye sounds safe to me the sounds say the screens say don't call us kid we'll call you don't call us kid we'll call you the world is dripping genocide
