

Since Forever, Rule #1 Of Sound

Permission to speak
With word that evade me
Cause spelling it out
Would kill you inside
This love is a treason
Your love has no reason
You got me believing
Its me who's to blame
Tired eyes, you fake a smile
And, breathing hard, you get your way
Thinking now and all things considered
Would saying I love you be a crime?
Falling out or breaking up
The things that they, they forced on us
Thats why we pray, and Ill start to pray
Thats why we pray
Out of breath and emotion that kept our heads above water
But, now that we're sinking, we're fading to silence
Say your goodbyes with war wounds and bruises
Cause Ive already turned my back to your lies
Thinking that you care turned into a nightmare
Take me back to reality
This love is a treason
Your love has no reason
Youve got me believing
Its me whos to blame
