

Sinners Moon, Memento Mori

1.
Tied by the thread of my life and time's running out
It seems just too late where is my God when I need someone's true care
My prayer just fades, fades away

R:
You will die one day,
but this is not your time
Yeaaah

2.
Ways of my own solitude they keep me away from living my days Sometimes there's nothing to say, just walk on my way but where do I go? Tell me...

R:
You will die one day,
but this is not your time

I always think of the future and these words are burning inside
I will die one day, but not now...

3.
I am the master of my being here
Is this what you think? Is this what you see?
Look back for the truth and you may expect me
I am the Grim, your true destiny

I (you) will die one day but not now

Interlude

R:
You will die one day,
but this is not your time
Yeaaah
