

Siobhan Donaghy, Crime Of Passion

I want you
But I can't have you
I spend all day thinking about nothing else
I need to
Be with you
'Cause I can't stand it by myself

I'm on the train on the way to work
As my brain syphons through the hurt
There's a man staring hard at me
How do I look
What does he see in me

I warn you
If I can't have you
I won't give you up to no one else
I'll hurt you, if I have to
I will fight with tools of war and stealth

I'm getting lunch from the sandwich bar
Egg mayonnaise, familiar
Faces and words only go so far
Gonna keep my heart here in my my bra

I want you
But I can't have you
I spend all day thinking about nothing else
I need to
Be with you
'Cause I can't stand it by myself.... well

I don't think you take me seriously (ooh)
I am hurting and you're gonna see (ooh)
What it feels like deep inside of me (ooh)
Now I won't rest 'til I have victory (ooh)

'Cause I want you
And I'm gonna have you (ooh)
I'll spend my days with you or else (ooh)
I'll fight you
Then when I psych you (ooh)
I'll take you on until you melt (ooh)

Fate and fashion
Crime of passion
No redemption in this world (ooh)
First I break you
Then I take you
Having rung the judgement bell (ooh)
I will scorn you, when I've torn you
And I'll spit you out as well (ooh)
Now I mourn you
I still love you
And I'll be with you in hell (ooh)
