

Siouxsie and The Banshees, Mother

The word you learn to love The disapproval that you hate that's Mother from Mother
They teach you to respect... Makes you always want to please Mother Mother

The one who keeps you warm The one who keeps you warm And shelters you from harm And she

Downstairs I don't know Downstairs I don't know If it's the springs in her bed Why I feel safe in my bed

She'll twist the words you speak She'll kiss and say goodbye If she thinks you're near escape If you
So she clutches at her brood So she gathers up her brood And sits across its face And smiles into

The thing you grow to hate The love you won't forget
