

Sirenia, Deadlight

In denial, in denial
Dreams crashing down all around you
Lost in this feeling again
Here at the bitter end

Vacant eyes are blinking in the night
Stares hard right through your soul's deadlight
In a dream your life descends
Towards whatever end
That your fate has now passed down to you, my friend

In denial, in denial
Dreams crashing down all around you
Lost in this feeling again
Here at the bitter end

In denial, in denial
Dreams crashing down all around you
Lost in this feeling again
Here at the bitter end

Another tear, yet another dead end
Another year written in the sand
Right here by the fence of time
Between day and night
Is where at last my fate will come to light

In denial, in denial
Dreams crashing down all around you
Lost in this feeling again
Here at the bitter end

In denial, in denial
Dreams crashing down all around you
Lost in this feeling again
Here at the bitter end

Forgotten dreams, life feels so unreal
I'm just gazing back at all the times that used to be

In denial, in denial
Dreams crashing down all around you
Lost in this feeling again
Here at the bitter end

In denial, in denial
Dreams crashing down all around you
Lost in this feeling again
Here at the bitter end
