

Sirenia, The Mind Maelstrom

I can feel a sorrow linger in my mind and the dark that follows makes me falter in my life There's a darkness, there's a light
A narrow path and a wide

There is no tomorrow for the lost and blind There's no glee, nor sorrow in the maelstrom of their minds There's an hour, there's a time
Is this the end of the line?

There's a fire fading deep within Lost its spark, its will to be
There are seven doors within my dreams
I've found them all, but still no key
