

Sister Hazel, Running through the fields

Well we shared a season Running through the fields We never had a reason To be scared of thing