

Sister Solitude, Hello Cancer

Hello cancer, come dance with me
Tell me the reasons again
Why I'm still here

Three days and you'll be alright
Drinkin' tea and laughing
But I broke my promises
And ended up at the first day
Again
Again again again

Hello cancer

You say nothing is entirely happy
Write it on your typewriter
I say we are stardust, we are golden
Pressing down the "z"-button
At every heartbeat
You ask me if i'm tired
"No, no I'm just empty"
Is my reply

Hello cancer come dance with me
Tell me the reasons again
Why I'm still here

Why am I still here?
