

SISTER WOOD, Under Covers

You can hear the rainfall see what sun uncovers, you can hear the tiptoe around my bed
Keep it to a silence take it to a whisper.....
No one needs to know about that.

We hide it in our pocket and we will find it when we want them to know

(Ooh) You've got me digging up my demons jumping in those deep ends
(Ooh) You're my dark knight
(Ooh) You've got me sharing all my secrets hoping that we'll keep this
To ourselves, to ourselves, to ourselves.

You don't make my heart pulse I don't make your knees weak, but you set my world, my world on fire.
You don't make my hands shake I don't make your heart break,
But you're all of my, my, my desires.

We hide it in our pocket and we will find it when we want them to know

(Ooh) You've got me digging up my demons jumping in those deep ends
(Ooh) You're my dark knight
(Ooh) You've got me sharing all my secrets hoping that we'll keep this
To ourselves, to ourselves, to ourselves.

No I didn't give a damn about taking you for granted, guarantee I never even planned it.
Didn't need you but then I need you like my left hand, hold you like my Hendricks, treat you like the real thing.
