

Sita, I Surrender

A cooling breeze
Runs through my hair makes me think of you You're always there
All around me everywhere
It's in the air
Your every kiss like a summer's day
I think you know
You take my breath away and so I surrender
to the power of your love
I fall back and let you take me there to the place that I've been dreaming of
I surrender
When you look into my eyes
I give in and let you take me there
To a place where there's just you and I
It's in your eyes It's in your touch every word you speak
My wish comes true
Every second I'm with you
So easily
You stole my heart now it's yours to keep
I think you know
You take my breath away and so
I surrender
to the power of your love
to the place that I've been
dreaming of
I surrender
When you look into my eyes
To a place where there's just you and I
Holding on to something heaven sent
I don't never want this love to end
I don't never want this love to end
Holding on to something heaven sent
I don't never want this love to end
I don't never want this love to end
I surrender
to the power of your love
to the place that I've been
dreaming of
I surrender
