

Sixpence None the Richer, Healer

amber liquid
wetting wine cups to the stem, spilling drops of bliss and on the earth like little gems that myself mistook so foolishly as I stopped to steal a drink of the liquid in the melting
and on my lips
earthy blankets
full of golden lint and thread
I see the children play as I am on my way again to another place
I'm sorry to say that we
blurred the picket fence still the children play
they wrap themselves in the middle to sip sunlight
and drink innocence,
they drink innocence

Chorus

hey today
beauty is my healer
hey today
I'm gonna steal her

wetting wine cups to the stem,

Chorus

and drink innocence,
they drink innocence
Chorus (2x)
