

Skeeter Davis, Before The Sunrise

[Bobby]

I guess I'd better try again to straighten up my tie again before I leave

[Skeeter]

The party's over the laughter's died there's no one in this room but you and me

[Bobby]

Though your lips are honey sweet and you're so close that I can feel your heartbeat

[Both]

Tears would fill somebody's eyes if we don't make it home before the sunrise

We could make excuses blame it on late hours and the wine

Anything we say or do won't keep the sun from comin' up on time

[Bobby]

So I guess I'd better turn and go there's one thing that you should know

Babe you're the one

[Skeeter]

It's not that I don't want you too cause you know that you could stay until the dawn

[Both]

When daylight is breaking we're not home whenever they awaken

Tears would fill somebody's eyes if we don't make it home before the sunrise

Tears would fill somebody's eyes if we don't make it home before the sunrise