

Skeeter Davis, Most Wanted Man

How can I ever tell you how much I need you home
I didn't realize how much till I was all alone
I need you here to hold and love in every way I can
You're the most wanted most wanted most wanted man
You're the most wanted most wanted man
No words I write can tell you can even try to start
The hurt and suffering I feel since we are apart
I'm sure no one has loved this much since this old world began
You're the most wanted most wanted most wanted man
You're the most wanted most wanted man
If you were coming back tomorrow that would seem up for everytime
But you'll be gone so long from these lonely arms of mine
Long nights are ahead of me now the hours I hate and drain
Two thousand times I awake in this cold lonely day
I need you so to hold and love in every way I can
You're the most wanted most wanted most wanted man
You're the most wanted most wanted man
