

Skeeter Davis, They Don't Make Love Like They Used To

They just don't make love like they used to
They had a heart so warm and true
It seems to fall apart no matter what we do
They just don't make love like they used to
Love just don't hold on like it used to
It dies before it's halfway through
It seems to fall apart no matter what we do
They just don't make love like they used to
I remember when I loved you meant all the world
[strings]
It seems to fall apart...
I remember when I loved you meant all the world
