

Skin, You Kill Everything You Love

Theres no point in being careful
Ill burn bridges anyway

Theres no point in talking vicious
(Ive) nothing cutting left to say

Ive achieved my own survival
Ive refined my own sweet hell

Theres no point in craving beauty
When youll tear me anyhow

If I look you in the eye
I swear Ill die
Cos you kill everything you love

Should I scar my face
To find my peace
While you kill everything you love

Theres no point in sitting silent
Theres no reason to stay calm

Ive no means to look resentful
(Cos) everybody you will charm

(Im) crowded out by stupid duty
Smothered dead by your distain

Theres no point in shouting angry
(Cos) theres no reason i should stay
