

Skrape, In The End

Don't you cut me down
Unsettled noise I've found
You said you'd be cruel
Our conversation hurt you

As you speak, it's obvious
But in the end, it's all words

Speak the way you feel
But spoken words don't heal
You can't change this now
I've learned that this is how

As you speak, it's obvious
But in the end, it's all words

We fall apart, we all fall apart
You fall apart, we all fall apart

I can't see the obvious
Cause in the end, you know it's all your turn
And nothing heals the words we live
But actions speak louder than words
