

Skulker, Newport Nightmare

newport nightmare, newport nightmare, newport nightmare
it took me that day, on the hill in the rain, to see life is but a storm away that day we both felt like we never felt before and our petty arguments came crashing to the floor and we hugged ourselves and prayed that we'd live to see the night the day we fell asleep in your arms i don't ever pray except for that day and the temple on the hill couldn't offer us anything and we thought about the things that we would never ever see again and we watched our lives watched them wash away

life is but a dream...