

Sky Eats Airplane, Transparent

The city splits,
imperfections high as mountains block my view of you.
Forget your past,
as I only wanted you to love me too,
me too.

I move alone
'till another mistake,
embrace what cold is.
(You can stretch, stretch yourself thin.
When will this end?
You're on your own.)

Lose it to the guys
you think you need,
oh baby, please, you've got a disease.
I suspect that I am being replaced,
I guess it's just a part of your game.

Wipe this half-hearted look off your face,
because I can't live this way.

I try to catch my breath,
take one step to my death.
Help me,
take one step to my death.

Every day
that goes past without your face, and all I want is out of reach,
oh, I can't reach.

You took this all from me,
now I want it back.
That was your chance,
now you are gone for good

Come on, come on,
you know all of my regret is yours for the taking.
Come on, come on,
lets see if you're worth your weight in gold.

The streets run red with clients you left for dead
Did they still get their bill?
Now I watch your life descend to hell.

Come on, come on,
I'm stepping up to the plate,
I'm yours for the taking.
Come on, come on,
I'm stepping up to the plate.

Forget our past,
as I only wanted you to move on too,
no one needs you to move on.

I'm moving on, I'm moving on,
I cant live this way.
That was your chance

I'm setting sail... and there's nothing that I cant reach
With no plot and direction Reach...
Savor this moment tomorrow is long...
