

Sky Harbor, Welcome

Open up your curtains
Let the sun shine in
Can you see the difference it makes
In this world you're entering?
(you think you're ready, well, you never know)
What do you think
(don't you think it's time just to let it go)
This world needs?

Welcome to the world
Thrown into the mess that all the rest made
Welcome to the world
Big ideals and fears are one in the same
Welcome to the world
It doesn't need another love or rock song
Welcome to the world
We need love

Open up your doorway
Bring something genuine
Can you see the difference it makes
In this world you're living in?
Here you are
You've come so far
(you think you're ready, well, you never know)
What do you think
(don't you think it's time just to let it go)
This world needs?
