

Sky's The Limit, Skyline Drive

sometimes i run but i'm not afraid why must you bring up all mistakes i've made she makes me smile
you come around the wind in her hair reflects the sunset i see you make it seem like it was yesterday but we've come a long way out of the rain i search for answers but still find nothing at all why can't i why must you say i've made a mess of things i won't believe it i feel like i'm dancing on air tonight i'll make it right
i'll make it right
pull into another station and get more fuel what will i do sometimes i drive or ride with my eyes closed tight cause if the skyline looks this way then i don't want to sleep tonight (never giving in always seeking light we must always try try with all our might)