

Slade, When The Lights Are Out

With the lights out, we'll be sitting pretty, scream a pitiful scream
With the lights out, we'll be warm and willing, better watch where I lean
When you gaze into a crystal ball, you'll see nothing's gonna change at all
You'll see nothing's gonna happen overnight, so please
When the lights are out, when I hear you sigh
Let me feel your warm breath on my neck, it makes me hit the sky
When the lights are out, when I hear you sigh
Let me feel your warm breath on my neck, it makes me hit the sky
Oh With a whisper you can bowl me over, blow a beautiful blow
With an answer, you can turn me under, wind up ready to go
When you gaze into a crystal ball, you'll see nothing's gonna change at all
You'll see nothing's gonna happen overnight, so please

When the lights are out, when I hear you sigh
Let me feel your warm breath on my neck, it makes me hit the sky
When the lights are out, when I hear you sigh
Let me feel your warm breath on my neck, it makes me hit the sky

When you gaze into a crystal ball,
you'll see nothing's gonna change at all
You'll see nothing's gonna happen overnight, so please
When the lights are out, when I hear you sigh
Let me feel your warm breath on my neck, it makes me hit the sky

When the lights are out, when I hear you sigh
Let me feel your warm breath on my neck, it makes me hit the sky
When the lights are out,
When the lights are out,
When the lights are out,
When the lights are out
