

Slapstick, Ed

they dont know what it takes to make a man break down.
the don't know what its like to survive without your friends and family around, they tell you that you're lazy and won't get off your ass to find a job so you deserve that shitty situation that you got.
you always told me to believe in myself but i believe in you, don't give up. i wanna hear you say it is gonna be alright and everythings gonna be ok.
