Sławek Uniatowski, Tell Me Who You Are

Tell me who you are where you've been? I'll change my life if I have to. Stay! Stay just where way you are.

If I could lie, in the blink of an eye I'd make you stay around somehow.

If I could love, I would break up with the lush life I can't control.

Tell me who you are where you've been? I'll change my life if I have to. Stay! Stay just where way you are.

If I could find a friend of a kind, I could be someone to lean on.

If I was sure that you wanna know I'd show you what I keep under wraps.

Tell me who you are where you've been? I'll change my life if I have to. Stay! Stay just where way you are.
