

Slechtvalk, To Praise The Unpraised

Your name I call in this darkened world
Where the night dwells in every place
But I know You will return and bring
A Kingdom of love and peace

And end the terror, under the reign of the anti-christ

Come and surround us with Your beauty
End this sorrowful time and bring Your light

The night shall shiver by the sound of Your voice
And flee from Your coming holy light

Call Thy name I will forever
Nothing will prevent me from doing so

And Your love I will caress for eternity
And Your enemies I will oppose until the end.

Come and show us Your glory
Depart, evil spirits of Lucifer
Let justice be done
Let Your enemies burn in their defeat

Come and show us Your strength and glory
Depart, evil spirits of Lucifer
Let justice be done in this darkened world
Let Your enemies burn in their defeat
