

Sleepaway, Who Needs The Radio When You've

I was hoping this could stay a while
And keep us where we are
Ill turn my words to promises
Just promise me youll listen

Pulling me away from everything I know
I try to get away

Still I try and find you now
Youre always running around and running away
So hold on now
Youre chasing the sun but youre falling away

I know your words turn to melody
They always do
And I always wait
I wait and listen
You say we cant make up for a summer we missed

Still I try and find you now
Youre always running around and running away
So hold on now
Youre chasing the sun but youre falling away
I can hang out for a while

Every kiss and every smile
Setting sun and windows down
Ill take you there
With my arm around you now
Its never been a question
Ill take you there

Still I try and find you now
Youre always running around and running away
So hold on now
Youre chasing the sun but youre falling away
