

Slick Shoes, Hide And Seek

I have noticed things about myself.
It seems they never stay under the rug.
He swept them too.
I don't know how I have gone on for so long.
If only I could hide them someplace they would stay.
And all this time I was wrong.
You have been there everyday.
I never gave the credit that was due and hiding is not the way.
I don't need to focus on what has passed.
My life will not be hide and seek.
But I will seek the truth in all I do in every trial I face.
I seek the truth. I seek the truth.
