Sloan, I Hate My Generation

What could you both possibly share -other than the color of your hair Sean said, we both play guitar -never even have to say a word That's the best thing that I ever heard -you have left a finger print on me Just dust and then you'll surely see

I've got my reservations and I hate my generation

If I was born in the forties I'd be a teen in the fifties and maybe I watch too much TV

Maybe, maybe it's my fault I should take it with a grain of salt

I've got my hesitations spit on your generations

S-E-A-N S-A-I-D P-L-A-Y yeah yeah yeah yeah S-E-A-N S-A-I-D P-L-A-Y yeah yeah yeah yeah

Maybe, maybe it's my fault I should take it with a grain of salt

What could you both possibly share -other than the color of your hair Sean said, 'we both play guitar!' -never even have to say a word That's the best thing that I ever heard

I have got my reservations as I skate by my generation mmm