Sloan, Marcus Said

Halloween The night the artist caused a scene The night I heard about his queen I'm just glad my clock was clean

Hit the road Hit the ceiling Hit my friends And watch while it ends

Harder harder hardest I am the artist That makes it easy for you To paint you in a corner

Marcus said Or at least he might have said I know what it is to be sad You should see what I once had

Eighty-three Man that's where I'd like to be God help me

Harder harder hardest I am the artist That makes it easy for you To paint you in a corner

Alcoholic alchemy Write a song for me I can turn lead into gold Just don't let me get old La la la...

What I find Is I can drink until I'm blind But I don't mind

Have a heart Just take one look at my art It should give me amnesty It means everything to me

Harder harder hardest I am the artist That makes it easy for you To paint you in a corner

Alcoholic alchemy Write a song for me I have turned lead into gold How did I get old?
