

Slowdive, Waves

watch the waves so far away they're washing cross the paths that i have made leaving all my sins i turn away like soaring birds i watch my sorrows play don't you know

i've left and gone away you're knocking on the door i closed today and everything looks brighter the waves they just soothe my pain away it felt so good to see the sun i'll choose my time before i choose the one floating cross the waves the silence runs my thoughts can go but now my sorrows done (repeat chorus)
