Slut, Two Hours

'Cause two hours ago
We've tried to persuade each other's mind
Fell asleep beside you every time you cried
Along the years I couldn't find a way
Of leaving you behind
Step aside of you with every time you move

Now I'm falling back again
However deep I fall
I never could have told you where or when

Now I'm falling back again

For an instant I felt half as sure
About what we tried to say

Watching all of this go by Watching all the times you've
Lied waiting patiently for everything you do
Think of all the things you've said
That they won't matter 'til I'm dead
Think it's me to catch you everytime you fall
Everytime you fall...

Now I'm falling back again
