

Smalltown Poets, If Youll Let Me Love You yesterday i lived for me and i was so alone as i could be then i saw You and how You give Yourself away and i want to live for You today chorus:

i'll give; i'll hold nothing i'll give and i'll hold nothing back my love is a lot like me wanting nothing less than everything but i know You're the only love that's true and only giving makes makes me close to You my hands are open, so take what You see and i'll keep nothing, hold nothing back from me
