

Smash The Statues, Nothing Left

And all you ever stood for and all you never could give up
And all you ever wanted you pushed it further, you pushed it harder
And now your fight has ended, you can't deny it, but I will envy you
You pushed it harder, you pushed it further, I won't give up on you

And there's nothing left to say and now there's nothing left to save

Now that you are gone, it's just life's tragedy, we won't lay down and we'll see what you saw
When nothing is done, we will collapse, it's time to get up and really make a stand

And I'll save myself something bigger, hold my breath for something real
But we won't lie down until everyone has seen your life was more than just ideals
And I'm willing to make that change
For you I'll sacrifice myself until everyone has seen that you were right!
Save my breath for something bigger
Hold my breath for something real!
