

Smash The Statues, The Interlude

Hey baby you better start listening
Listen to every word we've got to say
Because the time is now to smash em from their pedestals
We're presenting our ideals and thoughts through the stereo to you

Come on, come on and start listening
This is the intermission, this is the intermission
Time is now to pull them from their high horses
Let's come together let's come together right now

Yeah we all got something to say to you
Yeah we all got something to share man