

Smaxone, Waiting

Embraced by hate
I see you going
Down a path
Of your own
Nothing to control
Or hold, you're alone

I hear you talking to yourself like
There's no one else in the world
You can't be something you're not
And now the soul is cursed

I'll be waiting
Through the stormy days
Through your endless pain
I'm still hating
All your hollow ways
Now I'm laughing at your ways

You don't know who
You are anymore
You don't seem to
You can't bring me down
When all is said and done
You're only dirt on
The ground, beneath
You can't bring me down

I'll be waiting
Through the stormy days
Through your endless pain
I'm still hating
All your hollow ways
Now I'm laughing at your ways

Waiting
I'll be waiting
Waiting
I'll be waiting
Waiting
I'll be waiting
Waiting
I'll be waiting

Watch your back cause I
Know where you'll be going
I can't tell because
Your line keeps showing
Get on your knees and pray
You must be choking
I will take your life with me

-Solo-

Holding tight to your
Idea of redemption
Fell on the way
And lost to temptation
With every breath
You now pray for death
But still you're stuck
In misery

I'll be waiting

Through the stormy days
Through your endless pain
I'm still hating
All your hollow ways
