

Smile Empty Soul, The Freaks Are Coming

Never questioned anything about the way that you were raised
Keep your life so plain, everything the same
Every sunday take your kids to church just like your folks did
Don't let them complain and never go insane
You're scared of the changing world around you
But you know what to do

[chorus]

So lock your doors and shut the blinds
Cause you know that the freaks are coming
Cover your ears and close your eyes
Cause you know that the freaks are coming
Don't let your kids be hypnotized
By the ways of the world that you live in
So lock your doors and close your mind
So the freaks can't get in
Bleeding questions all the time wondering about this life
Show them the Christian way, keep them nice and safe
Public school is not for you, theres too much sex and drug abuse
It's a scary place, those people have no chance
You're scared of the changing world around you
But you know what to do

[chorus]

Look away you'll be fine, don't let the evil of this world in your mind
Try to stay in the light
These freaks are wrong and you know that you're right
Look away you'll be fine, don't let the evil of this world in your mind
Try to stay in the light
These freaks are wrong and you know that you're right
So lock your doors and shut the blinds
Cause you know that the freaks are coming
Cover your ears and close your eyes
Cause you know that the freaks are coming
Don't let your kids be hypnotized
By the ways of the world that you live in
Lock your doors and close your mind
Lock your doors and close your mind
Lock your doors and close your mind
So the freaks can't get in
