Smile Empty Soul, The Freaks Are Coming

Never questioned anything about the way that you were raised

Keep your life so plain, everything the same

Every sunday take your kids to church just like your folks did

Don't let them complain and never go insane

You're scared of the changing world around you

But you know what to do

[chorus]

So lock your doors and shut the blinds

Cause you know that the freaks are coming

Cover your ears and close your eyes

Cause you know that the freaks are coming

Don't let your kids be hypnotized

By the ways of the world that you live in

So lock your doors and close your mind

So the freaks can't get in

Bleeding questions all the time wondering about this life

Show them the Christian way, keep them nice and safe

Public school is not for you, theres too much sex and drug abuse

It's a scary place, those people have no chance

You're scared of the changing world around you

But you know what to do

[chorus]

Look away you'll be fine, don't let the evil of this world in your mind

Try to stay in the light

These freaks are wrong and you know that you're right

Look away you'll be fine, don't let the evil of this world in your mind

Try to stay in the light

These freaks are wrong and you know that you're right

So lock your doors and shut the blinds

Cause you know that the freaks are coming

Cover your ears and close your eyes

Cause you know that the freaks are coming

Don't let your kids be hypnotized

By the ways of the world that you live in

Lock your doors and close your mind

Lock your doors and close your mind

Lock your doors and close your mind
