

Smilin Liar, Born Innocent

As I look at you child
I want to hold you close
Want to show you love
And make sure you know
Cause you don't know wrong
And you don't know right
You only know the way that you feel inside

Right. You got to be something.
You got to show them they're wrong.

As I look at you mom I see
A girl inside who gave up Too early and who never tried
They're killing your son
They're making him bleed
They are holding him back
From what he could be

Give unto him and you know you'll be alright. Whenever you feel you've lost control call on the man to heal your soul
