

Smith Point, Escape

Taking on the day
Waiting to escape
The thoughts
That keep me here today
Cutting back the time
Waiting for your light
To show
And lead me through the day

And I wonder
Will you be there too?
With all the time
I thought of you
Cause I need you more
I need you more than that

Too late, my friend
To take it all today
And to relate on my time
You could say that
I would hope to turn back to your way
Believing where I'd run
Today

Taking back the day
Waiting to escape
The ones
Who take it all away
Cutting back through time
Waiting for your line
To call
And take me far away

Taking on the day
Waiting to escape
And leave it all today
Turning back the time
Waiting for the sign
To fall
And take me on my way
