

Smoking Popes, The Corner

Ive made nothing but mistakes in my life up til now I was hoping that the golden bird would pull me out somehow.

[Chorus:]

And if I could turn back the time
That dragged us to your door
I would un-live every minute one by one til the killing came undone
til the killing came undone

Now your picture is forever
Burned into my head
But I wish that it was me there Lying motionless instead

And if there was a way that I could Unspill all that blood
I would put every drop back in you One by one til the killing came undone
til the killing came undone

Close your eyes and you will see The morning star, I wont follow where you are I am destined for the corner
And the darkness beyond
And the darkness beyond

Well I knew what I was doing
But I knew not why
I suppose I must have hated someone Else from days gone by
And if I had another chance to live through that dark night, I would un-shoot every bullet one by one
til the killing came undone
til the killing came undone

[Chorus]

Im ashamed of what Ive done but I must face it now
And the life that I have taken
I know nothing can replace it now,
But if I had a thousand of my own lives to lay down I would lay them all down for you one by one
til the killing came undone
til the killing came undone

[Chorus]
