

Smoking Popes, Weakness

It hits me almost every day,
Especially when you're away,
And every night we'll talk about it
In love with everything you say and every time,
I'm hoping it's all just in my mind,
But I know it's you just like before
I can't say no 'cause I like the way you lead me on, I can't let go
I've already let my weakness show
