

Smolik feat. Sofa, S.Dreams

It's crazy. Dreams amaze me.
Strange dreams, love dreams, hate dreams.
don't wanna know when I'm awake. /x3/
once in my dream
I felt exactly like I was him and feeling was strangely familiar one of those that you can never forget even if you're sad in the end Sinful, daunted, and left alone in this race
I know that it wouldn't be my case if hadn't brace myself for the moment of truth
I woke up and had to choose woke up and had to choose.
happily the choice was easy and my common sense too busy trying to figure out where truth begins I choose not to be afraid to be great not to be late to cross any gate that opens only once in a lifetime and there's usually no time to think twice I choose to go three times when no one ever goes at any time four times or even more I want to make sure if I can live to my body above the floor I know it's not impossible. I choose not to hesitate to go straight if a friend leads me astray I'll tell him to go away there's no other way, you know there's no other way more or less, one big mess
The dream came to end, got lost, but not without a trace upon my face I'm aware of who I am, and who I try to be, that's it it's crazy. Dreams amaze me.
Strange dreams, love dreams, hate dreams.
Don't wanna know when I'm awake. /x3/
As I lay me down to sleep
Cosy underneath the sheets Glue my pillow to my cheek reality becomes a dream and as crazy as this may seem all my dreams are in fact reality
Let you know this ain't no nonsense, see It happens quite subconsciously
When my mind goes travelling Pass time or ravelling Taking my emotions back to where I used to be a few years ago Remembering a few peers and foes And the person I was
It gets kind of (...) me Yes because We live and surpass Situations
can get kind of painful Your days with no inspiration
Looking at the future with gravy hesitation
And then, suddenly, I awaken
And the coarse red thinking 'Damn!'
Sleep with it is the causing of death
Just like my man (..) said
But I Don't let it get to my head like brainnoob Instead I get out of bed for some (...) Afterwards feeling brand new, put on some (...)
And go back to
And then to snooze
Put on some (..) and go back to
And then to snooze

it's crazy. Dreams amaze me.
Strange dreams, love dreams, hate dreams.
Don't wanna know when I'm awake.
