

Snake River Conspiracy, Breed

Spoken like a souvenir
Touch all of your childhood fears
Keep them at a gentle pace
Close enough to feel their heat

Somebody says, somebody says, somebody says
I love you

All those years you never knew
All the things that I could do
I keep them in a hidden place
So I can rub them in your face

Somebody says, somebody says, somebody says
I made you (I made you, I made you, I made you, I made you)

Breed! Breed on your own!
Always alone
You suffering clone

Maybe you're not good enough
Good enough to make me blush
So many reasons I can find
To kill this little clone of mine
I hold your grace
Like a broken lace
You've been replaced
'Cause I made you

Somebody says, somebody says
Breed! Breed on your own!
You're always alone
You suffering clone
(I made you)

Breed, breed on your own
You're always alone
You suffering clone
Somebody says, I love you
Somebody says, I love you
