

Snap, Zombie Prescription

SNAPCASE

no representation of my voice. your prescription set to destroy.
our persistence to boycott, silent partners you know we are not.
we are the signs of the changing... perseverance, we've come of age. collective interests to engage.
we are the signs of the changing times. cut you down to size.
these are changing...these are changing...these are changing times your preconceptions condemning race, and your solutions they cramp our space.
self sufficient that is our goal. recognition of some self control
