

Snitch, Farewell

it's late at night and i'm drunk again i think about the times we spent i thought you were the only one but now i'm glad that you are gone i remember days you hated me i remember nights when you were weak i remember times but now i see in the end i treated you like shit so the time has come to finally quit so here i sit

my glass is almost empty now i'm watching all the nice girls in the crowd but i don't care

so i swear i'll never come back and i'm sure you're feeling better on your own by the way your friends are stupid 'cause they told me that you'd never ever stay with a guy like me so i finally found my way back home and it feels so good to be alone i'm on my own

in the end i treated you like shit
so the time has come to finally quit
so here i sit

i know it's hard to get over this so please forgive and please try to understand i'm still your friend till the end