

Snitch, Never Surrender

the wheels are turning and we're on our way back home two weeks of rock'n'roll been fun but now we're done a broken knee too much beer and not much sleep the coffee's way too weak this is us living all our dreams can't wait to hit the road again can't wait to see you then every show we played we always did our best had the greatest time but now we need some rest got to where we are today in six years we're here to stay wouldn't want it any other way broken strings not much air and too much heat but we're loving every beat
