Snow, Little Did They Know

Thanks to: Primetime

I've never been a man that really cares what people say
You sit alone but now I wish that you would find your way
Since you been in my life my days seem shorter and my nights with you so long
Gotta feeling deep inside of me, you're tearing me apart
Running through my veins you feel the pounding of my beating heart
When you're gone, night or day trying to find peace of mind hideaway
Or does she love me at all?

CHORUS

(Little did they know)
She's like the glitter in my eye
(Little did they know)
She's like the star in the sky
(Don't want to let her go)
Love is based on too many many lies
Rain and the thunder she's taking me under

Got me feeling things that a lonely man can't understand Want her all the time but she only see's me when and if she can Who would ever thought that I could fall in love Somethings are better left unexplained Still I sit and wonder why, did my life just pass me by? Now I'm wrapped up in the games we play left me in this land alone

CHORUS

Who am I a foolish man to think this way Addicted to your love, what a price to pay The people see me off the ground and dust me off again Little did they know

Jump down girl jump up in a this
When you're in love you need no more wish
Akie and Salt fish Queen of my dish
You're the Queen of my heart
The will that come first some of them want, them need The word is not heard...
Rain and the thunder she's taking me under
